DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S

(Ex Army Medical Staff.)

CHLORODYNE

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr J COLLIS BROWNE was undoubtedly the inventor of CHLORODYNE; that the story of the defendant, Freeman, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July, 12, 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

DR. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—diphtheria, fever, croup, ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in diarrhœa and is the only specific in cholera and dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of epilepsy, hysteria, palpitations and spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in neuralgia, rheumatism, gout, cancer, toothache, meningitis, &c.

EXTRACTS FROM MEDICAL OPINIONS.

The Right Hon. Earl Russell communicated to the College of Physicians and J. T. Davenport, that he had received information to the effect that the only remedy of any service in Chol ra was CHLORODYNE. See Lancet, Dec. 31, 1864.

From A. Montgomery, Esq., late Inspector of Hospitals, Bombay.—"CHLORODYNE is a most valuable remedy in Neuralgia, Asthma, and Dysentery. To it I fairly owe my restoration to health, after eighteen months' severe suffering, and when other remedies had failed."

Dr. Lowe, Medical Missionary in India, reports [December, 1865] that in nearly every case of Cholera in which Dr. J. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE was administered, the patient recovered.

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera.—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy, that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

See leading article, Pharmaceutical Journal, Aug. 1, 1869, which states that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the inventor of Chlorodyne; that it is always right to use his preparation when Chlorodyne is ordered.

CAUTION.—None genuine without the words "Dr J. COLLIS BROWNE" on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.

Sole Manufacturer, J. T. DAVENPORT, 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London.

Sold in bottles at 1s. 1½d., 2s. 9., 4s 6d. and 11s.

WARNER'S SAFE REMEDIES

WARNER'S SAFE PILLS

Are an immediate and active stimulus for a Torpid Liver, and cure Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Biliousness, Billous Diarrhœa, Malaria, Fever and Ague, and should be used whenever the bowels do not operate freely and regularly.

Their action is gentler than that of other pills, and at the same time more effective. No other pills require such small doses for thorough work.

They have been used with great success in the English army where Malaria prevails, and are the best antidote for all kinds of Malarial Poison.

People who live or work in unhealthy places, and those of sedentary habits, should use them. Taken at bed-time, they promote rest and bring on natural evacuations the next forenoon.

They do not act directly on the bowels, but indirectly through the liver, by causing it to secrete the necessary bile, and should always be preferred to pills which operate as a violent cathartic, causing nausea and weakness.

Price, 25 cents a Box.

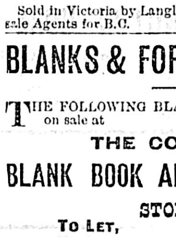
WARNER'S SAFE NERVINE

Quickly gives Rest and Sleep to the suffering, cures Headache and Neuralgia, prevents Epileptic Fits, and relieves Nervous Prostration brought on by excessive drink, over-work, mental shocks and other causes.

Powerful as it is to stop pain and soothe disturbed nerves, it never injures the system, whether taken in small or large doses.

It often arrests the progress of serious diseases by the recuperative rest which it produces, and is beneficial in all painful diseases.

Warner's Safe Nervine is the improved discovery of the most skillful nerve doctor of the world, and an inestimable blessing to all who suffer. Bottles of two sizes: prices, 50 cts. and $1.00.



Warner's Safe Kidney and Liver Cure, Safe Diabetes Cure, Safe Bitters and Safe Tonic are also superior remedies, unequalled in their respective fields of disease.

Warner's Safe Remedies are sold by Druggists and Medicine Dealers generally throughout the country. Send for Pamphlet and Testimonials.

STOCKS AND MINES.

TO THE SHAREHOLDERS OF THE QUESNELLE QUARTZ MINING COMPANY (LIMITED.)

THE DIRECTORS OF THE QUESNELLE QUARTZ Mining Company at the end of their term of office submit the following report for your consideration:—

During the mining season of 1879 a shaft was sunk on No. 2 location to a depth of 114 feet from the surface, the size of the shaft being 7 ft. by 3½ ft. in the clear. The shaft runs through rock which had to be blasted the entire distance; it has been thoroughly timbered throughout and is secure and commodious.

At 100 ft. from the surface a cross-drive 5 ft. by 3½ ft. in the clear was run. At a distance of 33 ft. from the shaft it cut into a body of quartz, on which a level was run 20 ft. The quartz extracted was found to be much broken and mixed with bedrock, doubtless caused by the movement of the country rock which has apparently broken and disintegrated the vein at that level.

A 5-stamp quartz mill has been purchased and erected, the cost of which was greatly enhanced by the unavoidable expense and difficulty attached to moving heavy machinery for a distance of 30 miles through a rough country where no roads or trails existed.

Forty tons of quartz were worked in the mill producing 108 ounces of bullion, which sold for $1256 67.

Good and substantial buildings have been erected over all the works.

The directors are of opinion that it is advisable to sink the shaft at least 200 ft. deeper before running any cross-drifts. To accomplish this it will be necessary to place steam power on the mine; they therefore recommend that the funds of the Company be first devoted to that purpose and that arrangements be made for the purchase of engine and pumps of the requisite capacity and to place them on the ground with as little delay as possible.

The improvements made by the Dominion Government in the Cottonwood Canon will enable boats capable of carrying machinery to reach a point within 9 miles of the mine; a road thence to the mine could be constructed, which would enable machinery to be placed on the ground at a reasonable cost.

The accounts of the Company have been carefully audited; an abstract thereof is herewith given:

	$ 10,346 46

From the foregoing it will be seen that there are debts or liabilities owing by the company.

The property of the company is estimated at $10,346 46, a value that would not exceed the cost of replacing it under favorable circumstances.

Since work was suspended last fall everything at the mine has been under the charge of a caretaker at an expense of $75, the only other expense incurred during the last winter being those necessary for advertising, etc, the secretary having performed the duties of his office without remuneration. Neither the auditors nor directors are or were under pay at any time.

THE SHOW.

The getters-up of the Polytechnic Show as a scheme for freeing the Mechanics' Literary Institute from the burthen of indebtedness will, we think, find cause for self-gratulation in the pecuniary results of the affair. The number of day and evening visitors yesterday was large and the interest evinced is one of the most gratifying features associated with the Show. Nothing so elevates and refines the mind as an intelligent contemplation of works of art, and the youth whose inclinations lead him in that direction should receive all possible encouragement. Some of the pictures that adorn the walls of Philharmonic Hall are masterpieces of the engraver's, the painter's or the limner's skill which money would not purchase from the present owners. What could be more lifelike than the portrait of Sir GEORGE SIMPSON, sent in by the Hudson Bay Company, or that of Cardinal BELLARMINE from the collection of Mr. Justice GRAY? How clearly and distinctly the features are traced and the expressions reproduced until the critic feels that he is in the awful presence of the great furtrader, whose will and whose law were supreme over one-half of this continent half a century ago, or of the priest—"the power behind the throne"—whose mighty influence once swayed the destinies of Catholic Europe. There are copies of rare steel plate engravings two hundred years old, in which scenes are depicted with the minutest nicety as to detail; copies of RUBENS, TITIAN and other great masters. Some sweetly-pretty photographs of English scenery; faithful reproductions of ancient Grecian and Roman architecture and sculpture; beadwork, patchwork, woolwork, of various designs, chiefly copies, and therefore tiresome from their sameness. Why, let us here ask, do not the hands which can copy art-pictures so deftly and faithfully that all who view the pieces exclaim, "Beautiful! charming! exquisite!" copy from Nature instead? Why are not object-lessons placed more generally before scholars? Here is an animal, a plant, a tree, a leaf, a flower, a pretty cottage, a landscape—copied from paper! Some mind far away in England, France or Germany has captured the object or the scene and transferred it from Nature to paper, and then it is sent out to places where the animals, flowers, plants and scenery are just as beautiful as elsewhere to be copied by art-students. Very good for practice, no doubt; and clever enough withal. But what is the result? Nearly every household wall is adorned with the same pictures, and the frequency with which they are met in good, bad or indifferent styles of reproduction disappoints the visitor and nauseates the art-critic. In one corner of the hall are several very handsome pictures of women with nothing on them to speak of—copied from the works of the old masters. "How shocking!" exclaimed a visitor, as he turned away with a countenance expressive of disgust. "What, sir," we felt tempted to say, "that beautiful female figure shocking! You who have just been gazing with wrapt admiration at Landseer's dogs and stags, and Rosa Bonheur's bulls and stallions, turning up your nose at a rare picture by Titian of the "human form divine" in the shape of God's best gift to man—a woman. Why, sir, you cast reflections on the softer sex by your 'prurient prudery,' as Charles Reed would term it, and consign to infamous company the greatest painters and sculptors that ever painted or carved. Honi soit qui mal y pense. There is no lewdness or coarseness, no vulgarity in these pictures (there may be all these in your mind.) They are works of art—offsprings of the great minds who produced them and true to nature unadorned. There is a collection of quaint old daguerreotypes in the southeast corner. They were taken by a local artist (Mr. GEO. FARDON) before photography was invented. There are faces and forms in the cabinet that were well known here twenty years ago. Some of the children then shown are now fathers and mothers. Men and women then in their prime are now old and decrepit or the occupants of the "narrow home." Fashions have changed since 20 years. Great spreading hoops and very v-e-r-y lownecked dresses were then in vogue. A fashionably-dressed female in those days—to judge from the daguerrotypes—must have resembled in tilting hoops nothing so much as a huge hummingtop. Very gratifying it is to find that two or three of the local manufacturers have seized the opportunity to display their goods. PENDRAY'S soap and KURTZ'S cigars hold prominent positions in the hall, and, to all appearance, are worthy to rank with the best productions of other countries. This Show will be successful in more than a pecuniary sense. It will excite a spirit of emulation amongst owners of art-treasures, manufacturers and producers and make the next Show a grand affair.

THE PUBLIC MEETING.

In a few days the people of Victoria will assemble in public meeting at the call of the Mayor. The subject that will be discussed at the gathering is the island railway—the line over which the present government were shunted into office in palace cars with Pullman sleepers attached. From what fell from the lips of more than one speaker at the late City Council meeting we fear that the sleeping-cars have been more largely called into requisition than any other section of the train; for if one-half that was said about them be true the government must have snored while Sir JOHN MACDONALD was in Europe upon syndicate business. It is earnestly to be hoped that Mr. WALKEM and his colleagues did not lounge away in luxurious idleness the hours that should have been devoted to the redemption of their election pledges and to an attempt to bring their railway policy to a successful issue. This government are under bonds to the country to secure the Island railway and to compose all points on which Dominional is at variance with Provincial policy. They were elected on that platform. We are not disposed—we cannot believe that the government have not at least tried to do their duty—that they did not exert all their might to secure a satisfactory settlement of the matter. If it can be shown that they did nothing the reckoning will be terrible; but before being held up to public condemnation they should have a chance for their official lives, and to that end they should and probably will receive a fair hearing at the shortly-to-be-held public gathering, which will doubtless be the largest and most influential and most unanimous meeting ever convened in this city.

THE ARCTIC SENSATION.

Lieutenant Schwatka's Extended Sledge Ride and its Results.

[From the St. Louis Republican.]

Even the monopolizing efforts and excitement of a Presidential election will not prevent the revelations of the latest returning Arctic expedition from attracting very general popular attention. The fact that Lieutenant Schwatka and his companpanions have made the longest sledge ride—3251 miles—in the history of Arctic exploration, enduring such extreme of cold as no white men have ever before survived; that they have discovered important rivers and coasts heretofore unknown, and corrected many errors in heretofore accepted charts, would of itself be sufficient to revive the wanting interests of polar researches. But when to this is added the discovery of numerous relics of the Franklin expedition, including the remains—which were brought home—of Lieutenant Irving, third officer of the Terror, we have the greatest Arctic sensation since McClintock's voyage in 1857-59. Such a length of time has elapsed, and such momentous events have occurred, since Franklin and his company disappeared forever in the dismal regions of eternal frost, that these relics are almost as startling as would be the resurrecting of a new Pombell from the ashes of Vesuvius.

The English navigator, as brave as he was unfortunate, sailed in command of the Erebus and Terror in May, 1845: his main purpose being the discovery of the Northwest passage. The ships were spoken in July of the same year, and were then making satisfactory progress. They were never seen again by civilized man. Being prepared for a three years' absence, no special uneasiness was felt about them until after that period had passed without any intelligence of their whereabouts. Then the British Government took active measures for the rescue of the lost voyagers, and during the next eleven years some twenty expeditions were sent out — including two from the United States—at an aggregate cost of over $5,000,000. The first trace was found by Dr. Rae, an attaché of the Hudson Bay, who secured in the vicinity of King Williams Land a number of articles belonging to the party, and ascertained with sufficient accuracy the locality of the last scene in the melancholy drama, McClintock, in the Fox—fitted out by Lady Franklin—supplemented Rae's work by much more extensive and careful investigation, which determined the date of Franklin's death—June 11, 1847—and rendered it certain that no one of the officers and crew was left to tell the tale.

It was hoped, rather than believed, that a still more careful examination of the territory traversed by McClintock might result in obtaining the priceless records of the Franklin expedition; and it was this object more than any other which inspired the attempt of Lieutenant Schwatka—the last that is likely to be made for that purpose. The announcement that "the papers were found in a tin box by the Nitchilles Esquimaux, and scattered to the winds or destroyed by children," will be a serious disappointment, not only to the whole scientific world, but to all those interested by stories of adventurous enterprise. But this irreparable loss has partial compensation in the additional particulars of the tragic termination of the expedition which Lieutenant Schwatza brings; particulars verified by such sad and stirring memorials as a piece of each of the boats, a part of the bow of one the sledge upon which it was transported, a portion of the drag-rope at which the poor fellows dropped down and died, a board of the ship which completed the Northwest passage—and last, and most interesting of all, the remains of Lieutenant Irving, identified by the prize medals buried with him. More than thirty years have elapsed since that officer was laid in his lonely grave by friends who were soon to share his fate without receiving those last attentions which the living give to the dead; and now his bones are brought back as a relic of a disaster which spared not a single man who shared it. Probably all of his near relations have passed away in these thirty years, and these bones will become, what they ought to be, the property of the nation under whose flag he perished. And Westminster Abbey is the only fitting place of sepulture for the only member of the Franklin expedition whose coffin touched English soil.

False Impression.

It is generally supposed by a certain class of citizens, who are not practical or experienced, that Dyspepsia can not invariably be cured, but we are pleased to say that GREEN'S AUGUST FLOWER has never, to our knowledge, failed to cure Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint in all its forms, such as Sour Stomach, Costiveness Sick Headache, palpitation of the Heart, low spirits, &c. &c. Out of 30 000 dozen bottles sold last year, not a single failure was reported, but thousands of complimentary letters received from Druggists of wonderful cures. Three doses will relieve any case. Try it. Sample Bottles 10 cents. Regular Sizes 75 cents. For sale by all Druggists. *

Sleeplessness and Billousness Cured.

TORONTO, Ont., July 15th, 1879.

MESSRS. H. H. WARNER & Co.—SIRS:—Your Safe Pills were recommended to me as a cure for sleeplessness caused by a bilious condition. The trouble has been completely relieved by their use. I have tried many other remedies, which all failed. The effect was wonderful; I can now eat enough of good plain food to satisfy me without feeling any unpleasantness, and am able to get a good night's rest even after eating a hearty meal at a late hour. I have been more than satisfied with the result and can cheerfully recommend them to others.

Yours, gratefully,

Vancouver Coal Company.

The Free Press says that Mr. Jeffcock, the mining engineer who came out to inspect the Vancouver Coal Company's property, will submit a report on his return home. Should the diamond drill be successful in striking the coal where it is now at work on the beach near the Indian reserve a shaft will be sunk there, and a branch railway made to connect with the present railway and extensive wharf accommodation belonging to the company. In the meantime Chase River and Newcastle mines will be worked to supply all the immediate demands for coal. It is to be sincerely hoped that the report of Mr. Jeffcock, who has had a long life experience in coal mining undertakings, will be such as to induce the shareholders of the Vancouver Coal Co. to furnish the necessary capital to open up new works, and avail themselves of the great wealth of coal that permeates their property in this district.

COWICHAN SHOW.—The Cowichan Agricultural Society will hold their annual exhibition to-day. The Cariboo-Fly will make a special trip, carrying excursionists to the landing near the exhibition ground and back for $1.50. She will leave Spratt's wharf at 8 a. m. and return in good time this evening. A quadrille band will accompany the excursionists.

RICKMAN & OFNER.—This old grocery firm has been dissolved, Mr. Rickman retiring on a competency, and Mr. Albert Ofner, the popular junior partner, retaining the business in his own right. Under the new arrangement we feel confident that the house will sustain its well established reputation for fair and honorable dealing and so recommend it to a continuance of public patronage.

DON'T FAIL to call and examine S. REID & Co.'s new stock of Fall and Winter Clothing, Men's and Boys' Overcoats, Ulsters, &c., &c., in great variety, which will be sold cheap for CASH. *

CONCERT.—This evening at 8 o'clock there will be a promenade concert at Pavillion Hall, admission to which and the Polytechnic Show will be only 25 cents.

The Mechanics Institute Exhibition.

The attendance at Philharmonic Hall yesterday was again numerous and there was a marked increase in the number of exhibits and a perceptible improvement in their disposition. There is still, however, a lack of floral displays the presence of which would greatly enhance the general appearance of the building and "set off" many of the articles exhibited to great advantage. But owing to the lateness of the season it is improbable that owners of choice plants will permit them to leave the conservatories. In the evening the building is well lighted and the motley gathering of vari-colored articles presents a very pleasing spectacle. During the day the light for many of the pictures is not favorable, but this of course is unavoidable, as it is just as impossible to find a suitable place in a building for every picture as it is to have a south wall all round one's garden. The productions of some of our local artists are conspicuous by their absence, a circumstance that may be regretted when the object for which the exhibition is being held is taken into consideration. There is a total absence, too, of scientific apparatus and with the exception of several sewing machines by the best manufacturers there are no exhibits that can be classified under the head of domestic or household machinery. Before the exhibition closes it is, however, reasonable to expect that these classes will be represented. The name of the institution itself should be a sufficient guarantee that such will be the case. It is worthy of mention that the work turned out by the Singer machine—especially the elaborate letter work—elicited general admiration. The Wilson machine is also capable of doing good work and has a very useful knitting frame attached to it. Amongst the exhibits which caught our eye as we strolled through the building yesterday—articles to which we have not already alluded—was a selection of skeleton leaves of extreme delicacy, very tastefully arranged and exhibited by Mr. C. Kent. There were also blocks of maple wood taken from trees grown on this island and bearing a very high and elegant polish. These were shown by Mr. C. Lambkin as evidence of what one, at least, of our native woods is worth in the furniture manufacture. Frank Campbell, the veteran tobacconist of the city, has a show case of meerschaum pipes, many of which are beautifully carved, also a nice assortment of cigarette holders and other articles which the patrons of the "fragrant weed" know best how to appreciate. Amongst the arrivals yesterday was an unusually large stereoscope, fitted with a very powerful magnifier, which brings out as clear as day every detail of the landscape views, animals and celebrated ruins, &c., placed within its focus. The oil paintings occupy much of the visitors time and attention, but few receive such close scrutiny as the full length picture of Sir George Simpson and the portraits by Vandyke and other celebrated masters from the Peers collection in England. Mr. Dobbinson, the taxidermist, has added several cases of native birds of brilliant plumage and at the rear of the hall, immediately over the stage, a couple of beautifully worked patch-work counterpanes are suspended so as to afford a pleasing background instead of a naked wall. There are many articles of great antiquity which are prized by their owners for the histories attaching to them rather than for their intrinsic value or peculiarity. The exhibition will be open again this afternoon from 2 till 4 and in the evening from 7 till 10 o'clock. The pleasure of the evening's visit will be largely contributed to by the presence of the Victoria Amateur Band, which will play a number of musical selections. A numerous attendance is anticipated.

TESTIMONIAL.

To Miss S. A. McClure:—

Learning that you are about to remove to another office, we take this method of expressing our most sincere regret and sorrow, because by your departure we lose a most esteemed friend and faithful officer, one whose short term has given unbounded satisfaction.

Allow us to wish that your change (although a serious loss to us) may be your gain, and to hope, among new friends, you will not forget those whom you leave, so numerously, behind.

We remain, yours most respectfully,
(Signed) Oppenheimer Bros., Andrew Onderdonk, Geo. Revett, Kimball & Gladwin, Benj. Douglas, Uriah Nelson, Wm. Harvey (H.B.Co.), E.B.C. Hannington, M.D., M. Hagan (Emory Sentinel), Kwong Lee & Co., William Teague (government agent), S. Tingley (B. C. Ex. Co.), and 25 others.

REPLY.

TELEGRAPH OFFICE,
Yale, B. C., Oct. 7, 1880.

To Messrs. Oppenheimer Bros., Nelson, Harvey, Tingley, Kimball & Gladwin, Teague, Tuttle, Ford, Dodd, Revett, Douglas, Hannington, Onderdonk, VanVolkenburg and others :

GENTLEMEN :—It was with mingled pride and pleasure that I read your testimonial presented to me yesterday by Mr. Wolfe. I assure you it is most gratifying for me to know that my services here have been thus appreciated by you all, and to feel that when leaving Yale I shall carry with me the kind wishes of so many friends.

I shall often find happiness in recalling my brief sojourn in your city, where I have received so much kindness, publicly and privately.

Thanking you fervently for your flattering token of esteem,

I remain,
Yours, sincerely,
SARA A. MACLURE.

CALIFORNIA.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 11.—Several additional branches of the Irish Land Laague have been formed in this city and throughout the State.

Mayor I. S. Kalloch last evening said that if the judge decided that the sheriff had no power to issue a venire out of which a jury could be selected to try his son, I. M. Kalloch, the judge would do so in defiance of all law, precedent and Christian courtesy, and that he (Kalloch) would never stand by or support such lawless and infamous proceedings, but would call the people to stand by him against such an attempt. Speaking to an audience he said : If you will not stand by me, you may build my funeral pyre on the corners of your streets and place me on it. Republican machine politicians may light their torches and burn me up, and you must take the consequences. (Applause.) This is only a hypothetical statement of the case, and don't forget what I told you. I wish I could state things more plainly, but I must state them hypothetically, and trust to your good sense in drawing conclusions.

[Per Steamship Victoria.]

There are affectionate women in North Carolina, who are almost as dangerous as maniacs. A week ago Saturday as Mrs. Sarah Marble was about to leave Lenoir, N. C., on a visit, and her friends and relatives were gathered around to bid her farewell, her sister-in-law, a very large woman, throwing her arms around her, embraced her, but with such force that she broke one of her ribs.

Old John Morris, a Little Rock negro, hit upon the idea of Tanner anti-bilious pills, compounded, as he declared, according to a receipt obtained of the great faster. He sold some to a woman, who died soon after taking them. John was arrested and taken to court, where the following dialogue took place :—"Where did you get the medicine you gave the woman?" "I made hit from d'rections sent ter me by Dr. Tanner." "What are its component parts?" "Hit's made outen roots frum the groun' and leaves frum de trees. Does yer wanter buy a bottle, jedge?" "No, sir, I don't. The charge against you is a serious one. What made your medicine kill the woman?" "Why jedge, de medicine didn't kill the woman." "What killed her?" "Why, jedge, de 'oman died ob de surprise. Yer see she had been takin' ebery thing in the medical market an' hit didn't do her no good. She didn't hab much confidence in my medicine, and when she tuck hit an foun' that hit went right ter wurk tearin' at the corners ob de biliousness, hit surprised de 'oman to death. Yer can't hole a man fur surprisin' anybody ter death. Ef I comes an' tells you a good piece ob news, an' you falls dead, de law can't hole me 'sponsible. An' 'cordin ter de same 'stronomy, if I gins a woman a dose ob medicine and hit surprise her ter death, de law can't put de clamps on me." The justice is considering the points of John's argument, but John is still in gaol.

The Calumet & Hecla copper mine, of Lake Superior, is now the third largest dividend paying mine in the country, as far as the amount of money that has been returned to its stockholders. The largest dividend paying mine on the list is the Consolidated Virginia Mining Company of Nevada :—Number of shares, 540,000; capital stock, $54,000,000; par value, $100; total amount of dividends paid, $42,930,100. FRANKLIN RELICS.

What Lieutenant Schwatka Found—The Bones of Lieutenant Irving—The Records of McClintock's Search.

At Depot Island, Hudson's Bay, the Schwatka party secured one valuable relic in the sled seen by Sir Leopold McClintock in Erebus Bay, which at that time had upon it a boat, with skeletons inside. Since the sled came into the hands of the Inuits it has been cut down several times. We (continues the narrator) have carefully preserved it in the condition in which it has been in constant use by the Esquimaux for many years. On the evening of the 4th of June we met a young man named Adlekok, who during the summer previous had found a new cairn erected by white men near Pfeffer River, which had never been seen by any other Inuits. Near by were three graves and a tent place in which he found a pair of wire gauze snow goggles, which we bought from him. Consequently the next day Lieutenant Schwatka and I took a light sled, with Toolooah to drive and Adlekok as guide, and visited the spot. Arrived at the cairn we found it as he said, "a white man's cairn" unmistakably, but before proceeding to take it down we examined it carefully, and found scratched on a clay stone with the point of a sharp instrument and knew it to be the cairn erected by our countryman, Captain Hall, over the bones of two of Franklin's men which he speaks of having found here. At this camp we found another interesting relic in a pine board that seems to have been part of the head of a bunk or other permanent fixture, and has the initials "L.F." in brass tacks upon it. This was picked up on the west coast of Adelaide Peninsula, near where the ship went down that drifted though Victoria Strait, and may serve to identify that vessel. At the next camp, which was our last stopping place on the mainland, we met an old woman named Tooktoocheer. She said she had never seen any of Franklin's men alive, but on the mainland and adjacent island—four on the mainland and two on the island. This she pointed out on the southern coast near 95 degrees west longitude. Ogzenekjenwock took up the thread of the narrative here. In answer to a question which we asked his mother he said he saw books at the boat place in a tin case, about two feet long and a foot square, which was fastened, and they broke it open. The case was full. Written and printed books were shown him, and he said they were like the printed ones. Among the books he found what was probably the needle of a compass or other magnetic instrument, because he said when it touched any iron it stuck fast. The boat was right side up, and the tin case in the boat. Outside the boat he saw a number of skulls. He forgot how many, but said they were more than four. He also saw bones from legs and arms that appeared to have been sawed off. Inside the boat was a box filled with bones; the box was about the same size as the one with books in it. He said the appearance of the bones led the Inuits to the opinion that the white men had been eating each other. What little flesh was still on the bones was very fresh; one body had all the flesh on. The hair was light; it looked like a long body.. He saw a number of wire snow goggles, and alongside the body with flesh on it was a pair of gold spectacles. (He picked out the kind of metal from several that were shown him.) He saw more than one or two pairs of such spectacles, but forgot how many. When asked how long the bodies appeared to have been dead when he saw them, he said they had probably died during the winter previous to the summer he saw them. In the boat he saw canvas and four sticks (a tent or a sail) saw a number of watches, open-faced ; a few were gold, but most were silver. They are

ALL LOST NOW.

They were given to the children to play with, and have been broken up and lost. One body—the one with flesh on—had a gold chain on, fastened to gold earrings and a gold hunting case watch with engine turned engraving attached to the chain and hanging down about the waist. He said when he pulled the chain it pulled the head up by the ears. This body also had a gold ring on the ring finger of the right hand. It was taken off and has since been lost by the children in the same way that the other things were lost. His reason for thinking that they had been eating each other was because the bones were cut with a knife or saw. They found one big saw and one small one in the boat; also a large red tin case of smoking tobacco and some pipes. There was no cairn there. The bones are now covered up with sand and seaweed, as they were lying just at high water mark. Some of the books were taken home for the children to play with, and finally torn and lost, and others lay around among the rocks until carried away by the wind and lost or buried beneath the sand.

The boat, judging from the relics we found, was a very heavy one and copper bottomed, for most of the kettles that we saw in use among the Netchilliks were made of sheet copper that they said came from this and the other boats in Erebus Bay.

During the year and a half that the Erebus and Terror were frozen fast in Victoria Strait the officers had probably surveyed the adjacent shores very carefully. We saw some tall and very conspicuous cairns near Cape Felix, which had no records in them and were apparently erected as points of observation from the ships. The records of these observations were in all probability contained in the tin box which Ogzenekjenwock speaks of as having been found and lost beyond recovery. An old Netchillik, named Ockarnawole, stated that he and his son, who was also present in the igloo, made an excursion along the north-western coast of King William Land. Between Victory Point and Cape Felix they found some things in a small cask near the salt water. In a monument that he did take down he found between the stones five jackknives and a pair of scissors, also a small flat piece of tin now lost; saw no graves at this place, but found what from his description of the way the handle was put on was either an adze or a pickaxe.

In the vicinity of Cape Jane Franklin we came upon the camp made by Captain Crozier, with his entire command from the two ships, after abandoning the two vessels. There were several cooking stoves with their accompanying copper kettles, besides clothing, blankets, canvas, iron and brass implements, and where were found a quantity of blue cloth, part of which seemed to have been a heavy overcoat, and a part probably wrapped around the body. There was also a large quantity of canvas in and around the grave, with coarse stitching through it and the cloth, as if the body had been encased for burial at sea. Several gilt buttons were found among the rotting cloth and mould in the bottom of the grave, and a lens, apparently the object glass of a marine telescope. Upon one of the stones at the foot of the grave Henry found a medal, which was thickly covered with grime, and was so much the color of the clay stone on which it rested as to nearly escape detection. It proved to be a silver medal, two and a half inches in diameter, with a bas relief portrait of George IV., surrounded with the words :

GEORGIUS III., D. G. BRITTANNIARUM REX, 1820.

on the obverse, and on the reverse a laurel wreath surrounded by

SECOND MATHEMATICAL PRIZE, ROYAL NAVAL

and enclosing

AWARDED TO JOHN IRVING,
MIDSUMMER, 1830.

This at once identified the grave as that of Lieutenant John Irving, third officer of the Terror. Under the head was found a figured silk pockethandkerchief, neatly folded, the colors and pattern in a remarkable state of preservation. The skull and a few other bones only were found in and near the grave. They were carefully gathered together, with a few pieces of the cloth and the other articles, to be brought away for interment where they may hereafter rest undisturbed. A reburial on King William Land would be only until the grave was again found by the natives, when it would certainly be again again torn open and despoiled. Among the various articles found was a brush, with the name "H. Wilks" cut in the side; a two-gallon stone jug stamped "R. Wheatley, wine and spirit merchant, Greenheith, Kent;" several tin cans, a pickle bottle, and a canvas pulling strap; a sledge harness marked with a stencil plate "T 11." showing it to have belonged to the Terror. We also found a stocking rudely made of a piece of blanket, showing that they were

IN NEED OF GOOD STOCKINGS,

which are so essential to the comfort of the Arctic traveller.

Chiccory in Coffee.

To detect the presence of chiccory in coffee, says Prunier, the microscope examination is best; but as this is not possible the following method may be employed: The coffee is spread on a sheet of white paper. The grains of coffee then present an angular appearance, while the chiccory has an amorphus appearance, and is of a darker color. When the suspected grains are picked out with a needle, the coffee grains will jump away or are split by it, but the chiccory grains, being softer, are easily punctured. The softer grains when crushed carefully beetwen the teeth produce a gritty sensation like fine sand. If chiccory is present its flavor is more of an acid bitter than the aromatic bitter taste of coffee. Chiccory in coffee may thus be roughly estimated. About two grammes of dried ground coffee are sifted in a hair sieve from the fine dust, which consists of pure coffee; the larger grains are macerated for some hours with cold water, and then thrown on a piece of stretched cloth and rubbed with the fingers, when the chiccory is forced through leaving the coffee grains on the cloth. The coffee is then collected, dried and weighed. The loss of weight gives the weight of the chiccory.

BOYS' CLOTHING.—W. & J. Wilson have just received an invoice of Boys' Suits, purchased at the salvage sale of the stock of Samuels Brothers, London. These Suits are made of Samuels Brothers' celebrated "Wear-resisting Fabrics," and as they were bought a great bargain W. & J. Wilson now offer them at less than 10 per cent. advance on Samuels Bros'. marked prices. *

IN ANSWER to an expression of doubt concerning the accuracy of one of his recent statements regarding the number of landlords and tenants in Ireland, Mr. Bright said :—

"My statement was not intended to be statistically accurate—(a laugh)—as the House will recollect that I was engaged in arguing that the great calamity of Ireland was the immense preponderance of the tenant class over the proprietary class, and speaking without any immediate or recent reference to returns, I said that the tenants were half a million and the proprietary class were ten or twelve thousand. That is the way I have generally put it. Referring to the proprietary class I did not take into consideration persons who hold one, two, three, four, or five acres of land—(hear, hear)—but I took the class which I understand to be in a certain sense socially and politically influential by reason of its being a proprietary class, and though I did not explain it, and am sorry I did not do so, because I think my statement was open to a little misconception, I should have said that I took my numbers generally for the proprietary class from persons who held land of 100 acres and upwards. During the last few years there has been a considerable addition to this smaller class of proprietors purchasing under the Church Commission and Land Acts, but taking it as I have stated it seems that for 100 acres and upwards there are over 13,000 proprietors in Ireland. I think I said there were from ten to twelve thousand. I stated also that the tenants were about or over half a million, but I think I understand them a good deal, and I understand also the proprietors; but I believe that, however accurately the figures are looked into, they will be equally potent for my argument that the tenant class is so numerous and the proprietary class so small that the opinion of the tenant class is overwhelming in its power against that of the proprietary class, and that it would be an enormous advantage to Ireland if the proprietary class were ten times as numerous as it is. I hope that my explanation will be sufficient. (Hear, hear.) I did not pretend to believe or know that I was precisely accurate, but I think the argument I was using was a correct one, and I think, whatever figures are brought before us, the force of that argument will not be in any way invalidated." (Hear, hear).

From a Distinguished Physician.

Prof. Green, a distinguished allopathic physician, wrote to the Medical Record of Atlanta, Ga., to the effect that after all other means had failed he sent for the Kidney Cure (Safe Kidney and Liver Cure), and to his astonishment cured a serious case of Bright's Disease by administering it, and afterwards found it equally beneficial in other cases. He advised his brother physicians to use it in preference to anything else for kidney disorders. 9

REMARKABLE RESULTS FOLLOW.—Pain ceases, swellings subside ver abates, and a natural and healthy state exists after using this great and wonderful preparation known as Thomas' Eclectric Oil. Thousands testify to the happiness resulting from the use of this preparation. Why not procure a bottle at once? The cost is trifling, and effect sure. One dose cures common sore throat. One bottle has cured bronchitis. Fifty cents' worth has cured an old standing cough. It positively cures catarrh, asthma and croup. Fifty cents' worth has cured crick in the back, and the same quantity lame back of eight years' standing. The following are extracts from a few of the many letters that have been received from different parts, which, we think, should be sufficient to satisfy the most sceptical:

Thomas Robinson, Farnham Centre, writes: "I have been afflicted with Rheumatism for the last ten years, and have tried many remedies without any relief, until I tried 'DR. THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL,' and since then have had no attack of it. I would recommend it to all."

See what the Medical Faculty say: Dr. Beaudoin, Hull, P. Q., says: "I have sold 'Thomas' Eclectric Oil' for two years, and I have never sold a medicine which has given me more thorough satisfaction. I have used it in my own case on a broken leg and dislocated ankle, with the best results."

A. H. Gregg, Manufacturer of Mowing Machines, Truemansburg, N. Y., says :—"My thumb was caught in a machine and badly injured, being away from home, for two days, was obliged to apply such remedies as I could get, but without relieving the pain. Immediately upon reaching home I applied the ECLECTRIC OIL, with almost instant relief. I have a large number of men employed, and your Oil has established for itself such a reputation that nearly every one of them keeps it."

It is composed of SIX OF THE BEST OILS THAT ARE KNOWN. Is as good for internal as for external use, and is believed to be immeasurably superior to anything ever made. Will save you much suffering and many dollars of expense.

BEWARE OF IMITATIONS.—Ask for Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil. See that the signature of S. N. Thomas is on the wrapper, and the names of Northrop & Lyman are blown in the bottle, and Take no other. Sold by all medicine dealers. Price 25 cents. NORTHROP & LYMAN, Toronto, Ont., Proprietors for the Dominion.
